SYNOPSIS

Home of Peace is a small, retreat center isolated in the Apennine Mountains. When Santi Borgni -its founder- gave life to it, he was inspired by the work of Jiddu Krishnamurti; over the last twenty years, the center has hosted many people looking for a new vision or wanting to spend some days in silence. The documentary offers the experience of the place in the form of testimony from its founder, transforming itself into a real investigation into the phenomenon of human existence.
